ELECTRONIC SECURITY SOLUTIONS

Experienced at delivering excellence

Cennox works hard to keep our customers up to date with the most advanced security systems at the best price points possible. When it comes to physical security and information security, Cennox prioritizes our customers' needs.

When a system fails, it may go unnoticed until a disruption occurs, often resulting in loss of property or even loss of life. Providing expert advice on planning, selection, and implementation of security systems is one of our core strengths at Cennox. Our design engineers will assist in developing system specifications and roll-out plans for any size of system. From 1 to 1,000 readers, from 1 location to 100, we have the tools to make your project a success.

Security systems are tailored for individual customers. Whether you are looking for a turnstile access system based on one credential, or a more complex two-factor authentication system, our team will assess your needs, make an informed recommendation, and install the system.
